N. B. There are several Towns within the County of Suffolk, which are call'd by the same Names, though they lye distant from one another; and others, which though they have some difference in the Spelling, have none at all in common Pronunciation. Therefore, to avoid more Confusion and Mistakes, it has been found necessary to put many of those Towns, which are either written or pronounced alike, under one and the same Head; where though the particular Voters belonging to each Town stand intermix'd, yet, 'tis hoped, that those who are acquainted with them, will not find it hard to distinguish them.
